
Run the studio without chasing the details.

DanceFlow keeps scheduling, clients, packages, payments and paperwork connected, and points out what needs your attention next.

See plans and start your trial

Scan with your phone camera
idanceflow.com/for-studios

01 Run the day-to-day

The work that fills a studio week, in one connected place.

- Private lessons, group classes and intro lessons on one schedule
- Client records, packages and memberships you set up once
- Card payments through Stripe and e-signature waivers tracked from sent to signed

02 See what needs attention

ARIA, DanceFlow's operations assistant, looks across your studio for things like packages nearing renewal, pending booking requests and unsigned documents, then suggests the next step.

- You choose how much it does on its own. Billing, access and refund decisions always stay with you.

03 Be found by the dancers looking for you

Your public studio profile can appear in Discover, where dancers search by place and style, and its inquiry form turns interest into intro lesson requests you can follow up on.